Henry Ward Beecher, the theologicoollitical demagogue, has been making a peech intely, and is very complimentary to the Democrats, because they accept the result of the Presidential election and don't get up another rebellion because they did not elect a Precident. He may spare his compliments. There is only a negative merit in obeying the the Finance Committee. Constitution. The Democrats acquiesce, not ecause they have any respect for, or confidence in, the dominant party. The latter are no better for snecese, and Democrats expect nothing good from them, and are not likely to be disappointed.

If the dominant party will follow a goo example and obey the Constitution in their administration of the Government, they would be entitled to praise they are not at all likely to deserve. Notwithstanding the nutoward result of the election, it occurred according to the Coustilitien, and that is an end of debate with Democrats as to who shall be President. There is morit enough in our Constitution to save the country if it be adhered to at last, however wrong it may to temporarily administered. The people will learn after awhile what advice is best. They may pay dearly for the iceson, but they wil only get it the better.

The Democrats differ widely from the dom inent party, and are just as confident as ever hat they are right. They can appeal to time. with full confidence in the result.

We do not silow that a State can secede from the Union, except by the right of revolution. We do not allow that resistance to the Constitution and laws of the United States can be justified by State authority. The Government has a right to put down such resistance; not only so, but it is the daty of the Government to do it, provided it does not cost more than it comes to.

We cannot, however, deal with revolutions on ordinary principles. Solomon says wisdom is better than strength, and it is especially true lu affaire of State. It does not beip the matter to demonstrate the wrong of the rebellion. We have no doubt that millions engaged in it now are about as well satisfied of the error as we are. Yet there is the rebe bold and defiant as at the start, with more men and means than the dominant party can see or edmit. What is to be done? The domluent party have but one line of policy-aght on. Instead of conciliation, add other causes of offense. Put the whole population of States under the bau. Sut jugate, desolate, exterminate, until, by main force, the territory is held in defiance of the population. Now, we agree that a separation of these States is suicidal to both sections. All that the rebels proposed to gain for State rights they have lost; and in the course of the pro-cess both sections will lose all the rights reserved to the States; and it is, if possible, to prevent the final separation, that we object to this uncompromising, eternally beingerent policy. It may fill, in spite of appearances, and then what is to become of a Union of the

We shall not discuss the right or wrong of the measure proposed, nor the policy of it. It would be useless. That all just government must be founded on the content of the governed, is e declaration we have always taken to mean something; and if it has any meaning at all, the corquest and subjugation of a people is in defiance of the meaning. Besides, it involvee an infinite amount of crime, enfiering and desolation; and we know of no divine right in any government to rule. It it must cost so much, by what Jaw, human or divine, has it a right to rule? The dominant party do not count a failure a possibility, although they have uniformly failed to foresee future events in the smaller details, It is impossible to disturb their coufidence. It may be rash to predict a failure, but it is equally rash to dogmatize about the certainty of success. But the danger is great, notwithstanding the confidence that is felt. It has several times appeared that the rebellion must euccumb; but the countil gains. Years more yet, the most sanguine must allow, who make any rational calculations; and, in the meantime, not one offer is made to the people South that is not accompanied with offensive conditions that luspire fresh determination, and even desperation. Every offer they regard as huntilation. They were wrong from the start; but they don't believs so; or it they do, they will not do right by compulsion. They know that if they are sinner, the other side are not that was adopted.

The Democratic party would heal this whole affair very differently. They would have ex acted obedience to the Constitution and laws; but no more. ARMS LOST IN BATTLE.—That a raw soldier u the excitement and agitation of a battle may fall to discharge his gun, and put charge upon charge until it is loaded to bursting, is probable enough. But the extent to which this cort of blundering proceeds in greater than most persons would suppose. In the ananal report of the Chief of the Bureau of Ordnanes of the Navy Department, it is stated

On the field of Gettysburg there were 27,57 gues picked up, and of these 24,000 were found to be loaded, and half of them were double loaded. One fourth had, from three to ter loade ie, and many had five or six balls to one charge of powder. In some cases the powder was above the ball, in others the carridges were not broken at the ast, while in our masket twenty-three balls, sixty-two buckhot, and a quantity of powder were all min

Number of Persons Reported Killed,

The movement to-day against the enemy has been thus far a glorious success. Everywhere, from river to river, we have been victorious beyond our most sangulae excectations. On our right, our cavalry, under Geuerals Johnson, fronton and Hatch have driven the enemy before them all day. On the extrems right, near the river, General Johnson and upon a rebel battery, shout four P. M., and suffered a costly repulse. General Johnson, however, since he left camp this morating, has driven the enemy at least three and a half miles. His progress was checked somewhat hys battery that took advantare of every eligible position on the pike to harms ea. At Dichinson'a, a point jest opposite Bell's Milhs, by the pike, about aix miles dowe the river. Johrson, in debouching between the hills into a small cove, ran upon their battery, eligibly posted user the residence referred to an a small knoll, supported by Racker's brigade of cavalry, strongly intreached. The country here is traversed by stone feaces, which it is impossible for cavalry to scale. One of these stretched immediately before the battery at this side of that counted a light.

Later this afternoon ha charged the ensmy's works, constructed with great sare, and swept averything before him, capturing three batteries. Wood actually overdid numelf on the hights this morning. He saked and secured permission from Gen. Thomas to storm what was believed to be the enemy's strongest point—Montgomery Hill—a promineuce immediately in front of his a prominence immediately in front of his corps.

Although the rebel line fairly blazed and the space in troot seemed perfectly untenable to anything with life, Wood's line coolly and steadily went up the hill, wavering not an instant, and took the hights, and with it a full battery of artillery. Immediately after, Wood assailed another strong fort to the left of the Hillsboro pike, which had been constructed by the enemy with great care, and faced with the railroad. He captured the alter a long and bloody fight, taking the battery that held it. Schofield, though not as hotly engaged as either Wood or Smith, fought his troops with real and ability, and captured five guns. Steadman comes in for a share of the honor, but his troops thus far have been comparatively lightly engaged. This evening the colored troops carried a battery, routed tha enemy and captured two guns. Among the batteries captured are Hoskin's and Lumathe coemy and captured two gues. Among the batteries captured are Hoskin's and Lumsden's. We have already registered at the Provost Marshalls effice over fitteen hundred prisoners taken to-day. Among the number is Colonel Clifton, of the Thirty-ninth Alamama.

Owen Camelly, Sixteenth Illinois cavalry, killed; Colonel Hill, Thirty-seventh Iowa, dangerously wounder; Geo. Fisher, Sixteenth Illinois, dangerously wounder; Lieutenant Little, Seventh Ohio, killed; Lieutenant J. W. Illinois, dangerously wounded; Lieutenant J. W. Watson, Fifth Jowa cavairy, killed; Fred. Themas, Seventh Iowa cavairy, killed; James McKleny, Fifth Iowa cavairy, wounded; John Davis, Fifth Iowa, dangarously wounded; Ru dolph Etter. Saventh Ohio, dangerously wounded; Colonei Thomas, Ninety-third Indians, wounded severely. At this late hour, P. R., heavy srtillery firing is heard on the right. Prisozers have been brought in from the tollowing rebel brigades:

Ear's, Reynolda's, Lowery's, Shelby's, Bucker's, Biffi's and McCallough's cavairy, and Scott's and Day's infantry brigades. Prisoners say that Forrest has taken Munfreesboro, but this is discredited. The rebels saem to expect researcements. We have captured to-day at least sighteen guns. Many of the prisoners, and sixteep pieces of artillery.

In the following official report of the battle before Nashvilla has been received from Gen. Thomas:

Nashvilla, Tonn., Dec. 15, 9 P. M.—I attacked the remay's left this morning, and drove it from the river, below the city, very nearly to the Franklin pike, a distance of about twenty wagons, with batween 500 and 1,000 prisoners, and statee pieces of artillery.

Onr troops behaved spiendidly, all taking their share in assenting and cuarging the enemy's breastworks.

this is discredited. The rebels saem to expect re-enforcements. We have espinred to-day at least sighteen guns. Many of the prisoners captured to-day are barefooted. They all com-plain that they are indifferently clothed and fed. As I write another hundred of prisoners have arrived.

The army corrected moving at daybreak to-day—Steedman's corps on our laft, the Fourth corps next, and than A. J. Smith's corps. A cavalry force moved to the right, and the Twenty-third corps were held in reserve. Very little except reconncitering was achieved ustil after meridian, but at half-past twelve tha order to advance was given, and the whole column moved coward. The rebels evidently expected that Thomas would attempt to turn their right flank. All indications would preruppose this, and they had offered numerous inducements for es to do so, and had carefully prepared their works to receive our force.

ruppose this, and they had offered numerous inducements for es to do so, and had carefully prepared their works to receive our force if we should attack them in that quarter.

To keep up the deception Steedman commenced to aktruish heavily on our left, and as our force moved in the direction of that point beliaved threatened, and while theywere massing troops on their right, we were concentrating the 16th and 23t corps and General Wilson's cavalry on our right. The results were that when the bugies sounded an advance our right wing advanced rapidly between the rebel left and commanded the river complately, doubling up the rebel division which the rebels had posted to blockade the river. A battery was taken by our forces and cent to the rest.

The rebels had by this time perceived that our attack on the right was a feint. Hood soon attempted to attone for this face pas, but it was too late; our right had entablished themselves on the main bank and were steadily advancing the while. The Twenty-third corps had taken a position on the extreme right, and A. J. Smith's corps were executing a half wheel, driving the columne of rebels before them easily. Rapidly hill after hill was taken, with little loss and leas difficulty. In an hour or so the robots had presented a strong from, and our progress was for the moment check. d.

columns were huried against the rebels with irresistible force, and at 10 minutes before 5 p.

M., the charge commenced. The First and Second Divisions of the Fonth corps moved west, and tha Third division at right angles with it. Moving south on its right was the corps of A. J. Smith. The First and Second divisions had the hardest task to perform. They had a more exposed position in their front, and the rebel works were stronger than elsewhere and more formidable.

Under a heavy fire of grape, cannister and musketry our men moved steadily forward but, owing to the rebels firing too high, it mostly passed over them, otherwise the siaughter would have been tarrible. Some of our forces were killed, but the list of casualties was less than can be expected. After advancing within a hundred had fity yards of the rebel works their fire was the severest. Our troops never wavered, but with a shout along the lines, ranging alosg the Hillsboro pike, coming full in view, they again advanced and were almost immediately upon the intrenchments.

The distance yet to be passed did not exceed one hundred yards. Re-enforcements were in sight coming up, yet the rebels evinced no sign of retiring, and discharged volley after volley into our ranks, at the distance of twenty five yards. Mr. Ten Brocck's stable was largely engaged, and his luck was no bettar than it has lately been in other places. He run horse is eight races, two of which wor, but both small selling atakes. Therefore, we hold that he did not have the success he had a right to expect. In the first race of the meeting in which he was directly interested, the "crack" of the stable, Paris, was defeated. In the next, Alabama was beaten for the Strewebury cup. Naither Paris eor Alabama got a place. In the next, a selling handleup, thais rau third. The Monkmoor handleup, the winner to be sold ior $1,000, he won w.in the Scheldt, a coit by Newmisster. In the Attington park stakes Thais was beaten. Peignor got no place in the Jeeningstown handleup, though well enough in at the weight. The Forrester plate handleup was the last race in which Mr. Ten Brock started a horse at this meeting. Troublesome ran third in it, and e poor third at that. It will be seen from the above and from reports of other meetings which we have given heretofore, that Mr. Ten Brock is not succeeding as well now, that he has a stable of English houses, as he did when he had American racers. This is plain enough, for his victories of late have neither been as mannerous ner so important. as they were when Priorese, Umpire, Starke, Satellite, and Optimist were running.—[Wilkes' Spirit.

FEARFUL ACCIDENT ON THE L AND N. BAILROAD.

The non-arrival of the train from Nashville Thursday night caused many very exciting rumore to be put affoat, and early yesterday morning everybody was on the move to hear from Nashville or along the road. When the train arrived yesterday morning it did bring news, but at last what sad and distressing news it was to all. The train, crowded with passengers, left Nashville at the usual hour, and proceeded to Blasgow Junction without interruption. Just after starting from that point, and when the rain had co; under full speed, it was thrown anddenly from the track. The ladies' car, which was next to the rear car, was turned empletely over, the occupants being all thrown together and a number of them badiy braised by the broken timbers. The road master, Mr. J. H. Kean, was instantly killed and some fifteen or twenty of the persons in the ladies' car were hadly wounded. After a portion of the wreck had been cleared away and the wounded cored for, the offieers of the train immediately set about to find the cause of the accident, when they discovered that the switch lock had been broken by some fieud in human shape so that when the train came on the switch it was thrown off. It is to be hoped that the person or persons who mmi ted this disbolical outrage will be arested and paulshed. Since writing the above we learn the follow ng additional particulars: The first portion of the train passed over in safety, but the three hind cars were thrown from the track down an embankment. A lady from Nashville, form whose name we did not learn, was so severely given in our city. The very best of order is preinjured that she cannot possibly recover. fifty in number, were more or less injured, out none of them seriously. The three cars which were thrown down the embankment are a complete wreck. The road master, we learn, lost his life by attempting to jump from the platform of the rear car, upon which he was riding. The lady who was so seriously injured and others of the wounded were brought up on the hospital train. After the hospital train had passed Cave City a soldier, samed Martin Bloss, formerly of the One linedred and Seventh New York volunteers, but recently transferred to the invalid corps, while sitting upon the platform, atapified with iquor, lost his balance and fell beneath the The wheels passed over him, crushing egs above the knee, and almost severing

Skirmishing commenced at early dawn. So little resistance was made that the opinion was expressed that Hood had fallen back to Franklin, but this was found to be an error. As we advanced a heavy line of skirmishers was thrown out, and when they reported that the robel force had fallen back batteries were pushed forward and shelled the rebel line for a line, when skirmishers were again sent for ward. Our lies had advanced nearly two miles in this way, but upon the rebel line coming in full view, they were halted and hatteries and skirmishers opened dre upon them. About one o'clock P. M. Bentty's Second, and Eillott's Third division of the Franklie road, opened upon the rebel line a heavy fire of artillery. WILL OFFER FOR FALE AT MY RESIDENCE. From the same paper of the 9th we take the following:

The Augusta Chronicle says: We had the pleasure of seeing yesterday Capt. Cooper, of Geo. Wilder's staff, who is now in our city in connection with the Confederate Prison Bureau, and whose headquarters are to be located in this offer.

connection with the Confederate Prison Inrean, and whose headquarters are to be located in this city.

Captain Cooper informed us that all the Yankee prisoners at all the piaces within reach of therman have been safely removed.
He also says that the Vandals were so disappointed at finding the bine-belies had flown from Millian that they wrecked their spleen on the defenseless inhabitants of the country.

The Courier of the 9th says in relation to the Georgia forcer: We lears that Sanday last Lieut. Reynolds, of Gen. Wheeler's cavalry, with a detachment of fifteen men, crossed the Savannah river at Harper's Ferry, in the Beaaford district. He had been engaged on a he attempts it has will be bedry beaten.

A report was in circulation on the 3th that on the arrival of Sherman's forces at Sistion
No. 2 hehad held off in the direction of Sisters Ferry, which would indicate his intention of crossing into South Carains.

The enemy near Proctoglie Bridge was reported shriling the road on Friday.

About 100 prisoners from Sherman's army arrived this city yesterday.

Wassiperox, Dec 36

Charleston and Savansh papers of the 9-h and 10th have been received here. They are evidently, but imperfectly, informed as to the movements of Sherman's army.

The Savannah News asys that on the 6th the Union forces again made an attempt to take that railroad, but were repulsed and driven back. On the 7th they were re-enforced and renewed the attack and fighting continued all day and had ceased at dark.

The News adds that the movement is no doubt a determined effort on the part of Foster to open a way for Sherman to escope. On the 9th-a skirmish with the rebel outputs five miles from Savannah is mentioned.

New York, Dec. 16.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. Gold is strong in spite of the favorable news from Nashville and the coast. The demand for shipment is partially the cause of the firmness, but there is an additional epeculative do-mand, though it is early seen upon what it is based. Opening at 2043%, the price fluctuated between 234 and 2343%.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. The Tribune's Washington special says it was stated in conversation on the floor of the Senate to-day, that that the President had said that Sherman had come out at Savannah with for y thousand more men, blacks and whites, than he started with.

The Times reports a wonderful instance of the fortitude of a young man who was shot in the obdomen by a Minis ball, receiving a mortal wound. Still he held his ground and kept on firing, until a second ball crushed through the bridge of his nose. "And then," said he, "I had to give up." The Times says:

"I hed to give up." The Times seys:

The events of the day may be briefly summed up thus: We acted on the aggreesive, attrcked the robel fortifications and drove them back at every point, until at nightfall their left wing was at right angles with the position it held in the morning, took sixteen guns, over six hundred, and very probably twelve hundred, prisoneers, and influed on the ecemy a heavier loss in killed and wounded than they did on us. All the advantages were clearly on our side yesterday, while at every point the robels lost. We have held our entirs line of works and drigen the enemy from a large portion of his intrenchments.

prisoners from Johson's Island:

About 1 o'clock yesterday morning, by a preconcerted arrangement, a rush was made by twenty-feur prisoners apon the center of the guard line, on the norshwas: side of the prison. The prisoners had improvised eight scaling hidders by attaching "clocks" to boards and stripe, very light, easily carried and just the thing for scaling the high prison fence. The rush upon the guard at once censioned the proper cry, "Turn out the guard!" accompanied by quite a rattling fire from the guard line; but the rush was so imposnous and by so many different prisoners that, in spite of the efforts of the guard, four men out of twenty four scaled the sence—passed the guard—se-caped from the bland—crossed the north channel of the bay, and went some distance op the penissula. Of the others, who did not get through, one received a shot entiting away his egat at the waist, was knocked down and eaptured. Another, Lieut. John B. Bowles, son of the President of the Louisville Bank, Kentucky, was shot twice through the body, about the same issuent, and killed. The other eighteen found the work too hot and retreated to their barracks.

CREDIT TO WHOM CREDIT IS DUE, -- On Wednes day all no doubt remember that the Meria, bound rom St. Louis, exploded her boilers and burned to the waters' edge at Carondolet, on the Missiseliph river, last Sunday. At the time of the accident all on board of the boat was in imminent danger of losing not only their property but their lives, and had it not been for the almost superhuman efforts of certain parties a large number of the passengers would have perished. John M. Hare, Captain, and M. D. Rapp, Clerk of the steamer Lilly Martin, did more than any others towards saving the property and lives of those on board of the ill-fated steamer. They not only risked their own lives, but placed their boat in great danger to save the lives of those who were so anfortunate as to be on board the Maria. The conduct of these gentlemen is deserving of the highest praise, and they should receive the thanks of all mankind. We would not have allinded to this matter had not other papers given theignline credit to whom credit is due.

FINANCE AND TRADE

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT, | FRIDAY EVALUIDA, December 18th, 1854. In our general produce markets to-day nothing of in riance transpired in flour. The demand continu light and is confined almost entirely to the local trade Speculators seem to have but little confidence in the ature coarse of the trade, and are not buying. Stocks, however, are not large, and holders are still asking 66 75 to 60 for superfine, $0 50 to 69 75 for extra, and $10 to $10.75 for family, according to quality. Small sales are daily being made at these figures; but if round lots were arced on the market, concessions would have to be ing that were they to do so, they would be compelled to make the concessions which buyers demand. Owing lo this difference between the views of buyers and seilers, there was comparatively little done. In the grain ma ket we have no change to note, the receipts being ligh with limited sales at yesterday's quotations.

Groceries remain firm and dull, with no change ! Government agents having withdrawn entirely from the market, while packers are not yet inclined to take hold The Sandusky Register of the 14th has the colowing account of the attempted escape of made to day at $11.75 green, with a small premium per hog on that price. The receipts are very light, and that lilling around the falls ap to the present time with amonat to about 79,000 head. There are but few hoas yet to arrive, and the killing this season will not excee

85,000 head. In the prevision market we have no change to note Mess pork is still held firm at $40, but there does no seem to be much disposition to purchase to any consider crable extent of that figure. The only sale made to-day was 400 bbls new mess pork at $40,

There was an actize demand for money, and the offerings of both approved and speculative paper were quit large. The bankers, however, did not seem disposed to ratend their lines, and were cautious about discounting argely, and confined their altention almost exclusively to their regular customers, or those to whom they are under obligations. Rates of interest is the open market were 10 to 12 per cent. The following are the quotations given by our banker

r gold and Government securities up to 2 o'clock this afternoom:

FLOUR AND GRAIN-Flour is firm and dull, with sales superfine at 85 80 to 89; extra family at 810 30 to 810 00 may family brands command $11 to $11 50. Wheat is m, with small sales reported to day. Small sales of new par Corn $1 to $1 66, from wagons. Oats are firm and we mote at 78c to 80c. Barress - We quote Cannellton at 75c for No. 1 and 41 for No. 2.

BAGGING AND ROPE-Sales of Bagging at 20c and Rope Beckwanar-We quote at 97 per hundred in quant des and 66 at retail.

Curam-The market is quiet, with a less active d mand. The sales to-day were 100 boxes at 20e for W. J and Me for Hamburg. COTTON YARRS-Prices unchanged. We quote at 75c and 75c for Nos. 500, 600 and 700. To the country trade we quote at 80c, 770 and 740 for Nos. 800, 600 at
